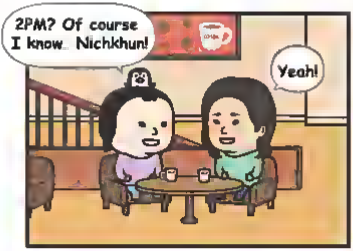
... that I can learn how to cook their country's food from them.



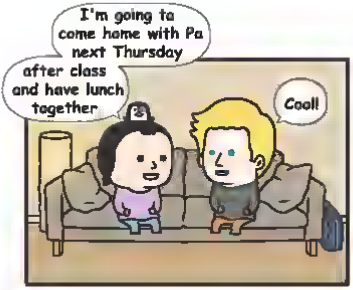
In the new class
that I've moved to recently,
I met 'Pa' from Thailand.

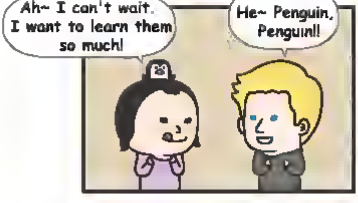
One of the benefits that
I've found from having these friends is...

We love Indian curry.

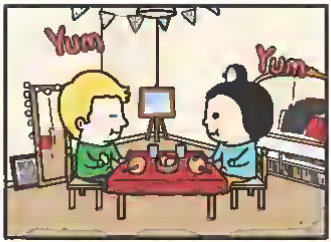
Here we go!!

That evening.

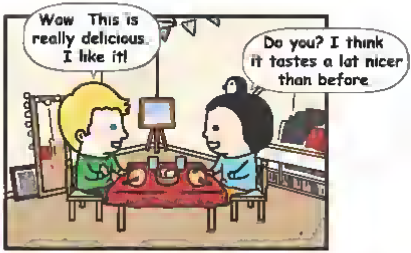




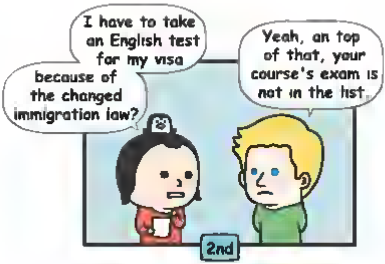
And Mev told me.



Yum
Yum

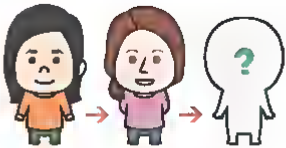


Wow This is really delicious. I like it!
Do you? I think it tastes a lot nicer than before.



I have to take an English test for my visa because of the changed immigration law?
Yeah, an top of that, your course's exam is not in the list.
2nd

... I've changed my English course two times.



While I've been studying in 3 different classes, I have made lots of friends of different nationalities.

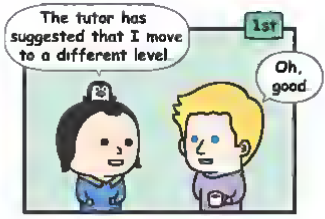
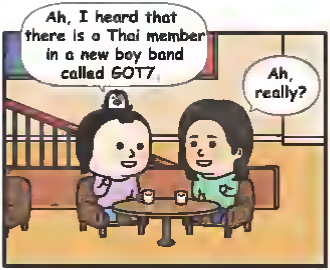
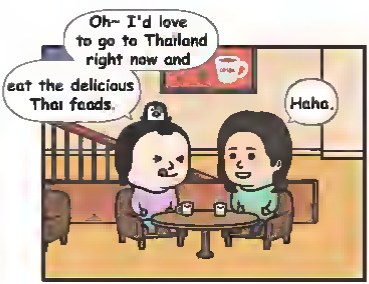
A Friend and Recipes



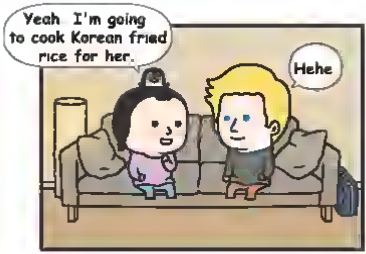
During the last 6 months,...

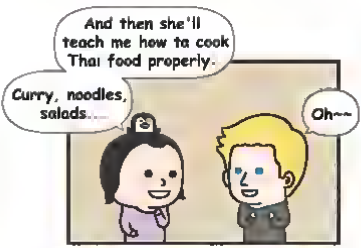


Last week, I met her in a cafe in the town centre and chatted.

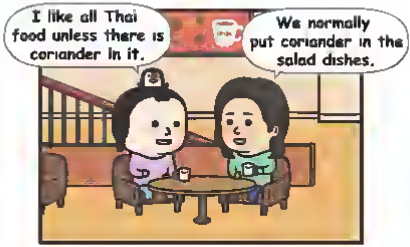


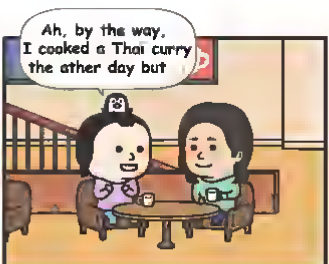
Then our conversation topic moved to food and recipes.





I was very excited about my new friend and her recipes.





We chatted for a while like that.
